LUMBINI BUDDHIST UNIVERSITY

Devdaha Education Development Project

Notice No : 05/083/084 Date: Sept 7, 2026

CALL FOR PAPERS

INTERNATIONAL SEMINAR ON TRANSLATION AND INTERPRETING:

Translation and Interpreting for Peace, Cultural Dialogue, and Sustainable Development

In Observance of United Nations International Translation Day

Lumbini Buddhist University invites scholars, researchers, faculty members, students, translators, interpreters, and practitioners from Nepal and abroad to submit abstracts for this international seminar. The seminar will explore the contribution of translation and interpreting to peacebuilding, intercultural understanding, knowledge exchange, and sustainable development.

Suggested Areas

- Translation and interpreting for peacebuilding and conflict resolution
- Language, culture, and intercultural dialogue
- Translation and the Sustainable Development Goals
- Translation of Buddhist texts, philosophy, and cultural heritage
- Translation and international cooperation
- Literary translation and cultural exchange
- Translation and interpreting in multilingual Nepal
- English–Nepali, Chinese–Nepali and other language-pair translation
- Translation technology, artificial intelligence, and ethics
- Training and professional development of translators and interpreters

Submission and Event Information

Abstract length: 250–300 words in English	Abstract deadline: 20 September 2026
Registration: 28 September 2026	Seminar dates: 29–30 September 2026
Venue: Lumbini Buddhist University, Central Office	Submission email: kumar@lbu.edu.np

Abstracts should include the paper title, author's name, institutional affiliation, contact number, and email address. Selected presenters will be notified by the organizing committee. Full papers may be considered for publication in the seminar proceedings, subject to academic review.

Dr. Kumar Khadka
Director